UtilityWeek's

Clean Power Conference

16TH APRIL 2026 | LONDON

Utility Week's Clean Power Conference brings together those taking an active role in the future of clean energy to accelerate a streamlined, effective and just transition. The event will assess the impact of the transition and development on the economy, communities and the wider environment, uniting key stakeholders to enhance planning and delivery, and provide clarity on the best path forward for all to benefit as we move towards Clean Power 2030 and beyond.

Join us in London for thought-provoking debate and networking with peers around what we must do to ensure a just transition to clean power in the UK.
