SPONSORS:

An introduction

Utility Week Forum is the flagship conference for the UK's energy and water sectors. Bringing together industry leaders, policymakers, regulators, and key stakeholders, the event is a catalyst for solving challenges, shaping policy, and co-creating a strategic framework that enables utilities to deliver on net zero while maintaining resilience.

Utility Week Forum features a highly interactive programme designed to give utility leaders a platform to engage directly with policymakers, influence key decisions, and contribute to lasting industry change through written outputs.

The programme will explore the policies, regulation, and innovations driving the utility sector's transition to net zero, improving environmental outcomes, and delivering the next generation of infrastructure for customers. As Utility Week's flagship strategic conference, it will tackle the most pressing challenges facing gas, power, and water networks, as well as retail companies —providing unparalleled insights, compelling case studies, and solution-focused networking to transform how utilities approach key issues.

This is more than just a conference, it's a platform to position your brand in front of sector leaders looking to solve challenges, shape policy and co-create strategic frameworks that will deliver lasting influence.

Themes for 2025

- Adapting policy and strategic planning in a changing world
- Rewriting the regulatory script
- Balancing risk amid increased investment
- Enhancing industry infrastructure
- Accelerating net zero
- Embracing digitalisation
- Bringing consumers on the transformation journey

WHY YOU SHOULD SPONSOR

- Demonstrate your thought leadership and commitment to the industry by being one of a select few solution providers on the agenda
- Showcase your solutions to a concentrated group of industry leaders and key decision makers
- Extend your reach and magnify your message with the firepower of the Utility Week brand
